

My name is Mary W. Kamuto, a former student of St. Josephine Bakhita Mixed Day Secondary School. I was admitted in the school back in 2011 when it opened. I remember that there were only five of us on the first day of school, a teacher and principal. In that year more students joined us to make us a class of fifteen students. This was not as many as we expected, but the situation was understandable since the school was new and had just Form1. Though we were few we did not give up and pushed on to realize our dreams. I studied very hard through the years and in November 2014 sat for my Kenya Certificate of Secondary Education and managed a grade of C+.

Later I joined Kenya Technical College (KTTC) in September 2015 where I am pursuing a diploma in Civil Engineering. I am in my third year of studies and looking forward to my graduation in the month of July the year 2018.

It is through St. Josephine Secondary School that I am where I am. I thank the founders of the school, for it has brought a positive impact to the people of Gitare since they are now able to educate their children and many attend. My sincere thanks goes to Rev. Stephen Ndichu Karani for helping our dreams become realities.
